More Suspensions.

Our telegraphic despatches to-day give us a list of more suspensions. This wholesale embarrassment in financial circles is most unaccountable at this time. Leading financiers are hopeful, however, and perhaps after railroad speculators and gold gamblers are closed, there may be sufficient money for mercantile purposes. The banks have been of but little service to the merchants this year, and in their distresses do not have their sympathies to an alarming extent.

The Raleigh News says:

The Post quotes two extracts from the Raleigh News, which it says "were written and published after Shotwell had been pardoned by the President." Yes, but the Post knows that our article was written under the impression that Shotwell had not been released, for the reason, as stated by one of our contemporaries, that his pardon was coupled with degrading conditions. But it turns out that at the time our article was written Shotwell was en route home—that his pardon was unconditional, and was based upon a petition numerously signed by his friends at home, without his knowledge or solicitation—and that he knew nothing of the efforts being made in his behalf, or of the existence of the pardon until the day he was released.

We are aware that the News did not know that Shotwell had been released. Had it known, it is far too wise to have written the article we called attention to. We quoted the articles to show the error of the News in making its sweeping charge against the administration. Shotwell was unconditionally released at the time the News was praising Shotwell for his honor in not accepting conditions from the President. We were not aware that Shotwell had been released, but we knew that the President had made no offers to him. He was not of sufficient importance to have been approached by the President, or by his order. Kukluxing has ceased, we are happy to say, but it is well known that there is sufficient evidence already on file in Washington to arrest and convict hundreds of men, many of whom do not dream that they are even suspected.—And so long as the kuklux refrain from their raids, so long will the Government remain lenient toward the leaders of the clans.

The News says: Shotwell and the kuklux who were convicted along with him, were doubtless guilty of some excesses, and their conduct may be such that it cannot be properly defended before the Courts. But the law under which the kuklux were tried and sentenced, does not make the offences with which they were charged felonies, but only misdemeanors. A man may act badly in assaulting and beating his neighbor, and such physical violence may call aloud for the enforcement of the penalties with which the law is armed against its offenders. But the assault does not constitute a felony; and although the violator of the law may be fined and imprisoned for such breach of the peace, he is not a felon, nor is he disgraced by the punishment.

We do not know as the News means to say that kukluxing, being merely a misdemeanor, is not to be considered as disgraceful, but we think it is. We consider it a disgrace to be punished by the laws of the land for any violation thereof. We consider it a disgrace for any man to have been a participant in any of the raids or crimes of the kuklux.—Cases have been tried in this county where it was proven that the party had committed trespass, assault and battery, larceny, burglary, arson and murder! all in one night. And we suppose all these crimes, if committed by an organized gang of disguised men, are denominated "misdemeanors" by the law of the United States, and no disgrace attaches itself to the perpetrators upon conviction in the United States Court! We do not subscribe to that doctrine.

On the legality of the United States law, we do not expect to agree with the News. It stopped kukluxing, and that is enough for us. Nor do we care to go into the merits of Shotwell's trial and the criticisms on Judge Bond. Our remarks were based upon the wonderful laudations of the News and other papers of a similar political faith over the immaculate Shotwell, who was suffering the penalty for his crime. It is not denied that he committed the crimes for which he was punished, but the News now assails the Judge, the Marshal and the jury. If Judge Bond was the most terrible tyrant that ever breathed, and good natured "Sam" Carrow the most blood-thirsty Marshal the world ever saw, and Shotwell was convicted of the crime he actually committed, his punishment was proper. Did the News ever reflect upon the difficulty of procuring a jury in the kuklux counties who were not bound by the bloody, secret oath of the Order? Suppose Col. Carrow had drawn the men indiscriminately from these counties, would it have been possible to have convicted even the most flagrant violator of the law? The News must know that had such a policy been pursued, that the kuklux, unless squelched by the military, would to-day be a power and terror in the land. This is just exactly what the kuklux wanted. Draw the jury from among the companies and co-conspirators of the accused and bring them up before them for trial! This would have been a charming way to try offenders against the law!

But as we said before, we do not care to go into an argument about the constitutionality of the kuklux acts, or the fairness of Shotwell's trial, or otherwise. All we care for in the controversy is to have Democratic papers cease glorifying a man who has committed a crime, simply because he is a Democrat and opposed to the Administration.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

— Captain Jones and a number of other attaches of the Yellowstone expedition arrived from the West at Omaha. The remainder of the party will arrive on Thursday.

— A general strike of Shoemakers in New York is imminent. Two hundred men struck, because, as is alleged, the employers have failed to adhere to the terms agreed upon at the last strike. It is expected that all the workmen will strike to-morrow.

— The Canada Southern Railway Company have, owing to the financial crisis in New York, been obliged to cancel all their contracts for the present and have ordered the discharge of all their workmen not employed on regular trains running over the road.

— Members of the Polaris expedition left Dundee, Monday, in company with the American Vice Consul, for Liverpool to take the steamer for New York. A large crowd witnessed their departure, and cheered as they stepped on board the packet. The whole party have signed a letter of thanks to Capt. Adams, of the steamer Arctic.

— Chief Justice Cockburn has fined an editor of the Cheltenham Chronicle $750 for publishing criticisms on the trial of the Tichborne claimant, and threatening him with imprisonment if the offence is repeated. What will our oversensitive papers, who cry of the liberty of the press, say to this?

— An election to fill a vacancy in the House of Commons was held in Dover. There has been much excitement during the canvass, and trouble was apprehended on the day of election, but thus far there has been no disturbance. Both candidates were confident of success, but Barnett, Conservative, was returned to Parliament.

— A desperate conflict took place in Bury street, Edmonds, London, on the 21st, between mad Irishmen and a body of policemen. The officers were compelled to use their clubs vigorously, and did not succeed in dispersing the rioters until many of them had received severe injuries. There is great excitement in the town, and a renewal of the disturbances is apprehended. While the rioting was in progress, several houses were attacked by the mob and wrecked.

— Coast-guard officers boarded the steamer Murillo immediately on her arrival in English waters. Her coming to England is considered a virtual surrender for the purpose of trying the question of liability. The Spanish consul is held responsible for her custody while she remains at Port Dover. It is expected the vessel will be sent to London, where the case is to be tried. Her present captain is not the same who commanded her at the time of her collision with the Northfleet. There is much excitement at Dover over her presence. She is anchored close to the battery.

THE TOWN CRIER.

— Mild.

— Gold is 111 1/2.

— Rain all night.

— Hotels full last night.

— Awful muddy. Wonder who sells overshoes.

— Masonry flourishes in spite of the hard times.

— It is supposed that Columbus Court will close to-morrow.

— If any one is panic-y and afraid of holding greenbacks, he can invest them in Posts.

— Mosquitos are abundant, persistent, poisonous and as unwelcome as ever. Why don't they go away?

— The quarter spoken of in our last Saturday Night Sketch was found by W. Cowan Green, Esq., but it would be harder to find the unhappy loser than it was to find the quarter.

— THE DOG CART made its daily rounds early this morning.

— CONSIDERABLE excitement was manifest on the streets to-day over the report that all the banks in Baltimore had suspended. Our despatches say nothing about it, but there seems to be grounds for the rumor. This, of course, is a concert of action to prepare for a storm, as cautious mariners take in sail.

Still, it adds to the excitement of the hour.

— WE are of the opinion that the present quell among our leading bankers, although at present very inconvenient and greatly detrimental to business, will prove beneficial in the long run. It will have the effect of preventing wholesale speculations and the tying up of such vast quantities of money to the detriment of legitimate trade.

— When the excitement dies down a little, and capitalists—always the most excitable men on earth—look about and find themselves more frightened than hurt, we expect to chronicle a return to easy times. The excitement now seems to be at its height, but in all human probability must soon decrease.

— Magistrates' Courts.

— Squire Gardner disposed of the following cases:

— Henry Anderson, charged with vagrancy. Being unable to sustain the charge he was dismissed.

— Peter Bradley, charged with trespassing on the premises of John H.

Merrick, found guilty, and required to pay the cost.

— Peter Bradley, charged with an assault upon the person of John H. Merrick, was found guilty, and required to pay the cost.

— John H. Merrick sued out a peace warrant against Peter Bradley, who was bound over in the sum of $50 to keep the peace, and for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court.

— Peter Bradley sued out a peace warrant against John H. Merrick, which will be tried to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

— W. H. Moore, J. P., adjudicated the case of Sam Larkins, charged with an assault and battery upon the person of Thos. Evans. Larkins was fined $2 and costs. An appeal asked for and granted.

— A bond of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court.

— Sam Larkins was required to pay $10 for contempt of court.

— WE are glad to know that our friends are appreciating the importance of circulating the WEEKLY POST in every township in this Congressional District.

Our canvassers are hard at work, and we receive cheering intelligence from many quarters. The following is a sample letter of many received from differ-

STATE ITEMS.

They have oysters in Raleigh.

It is said that mails will soon be put on the Charlotte Air-Line railroad.

The Scotland Neck band has been engaged to play at the Weldon Fair.

In the Cumberland county jail is confined three murderers and two negroes charged with rape.

During the week of the Fair of the Carolinas, the Good Templars of Charlotte propose to give an entertainment.

The Fayetteville Eagle says that the drainage of the Flat Swamp will reclaim 20,000 acres of the best land in the State.

The Charlotte Observer prints the following which will apply equally to Wilmington: "The last watermelon of the season was eaten yesterday by a barefooted darkey, who had to prop himself against a lamp post on Trade street to keep from being knocked down by the chills, which could be seen rising out of it."

The Raleigh News says: We were pleased to see in our office last evening

J. J. Cassidy, Esq., of the Wilmington

Post. Mr. C. is a pleasant gentleman and we hope his visits will be frequent.

The Post does not second that motion.

Bro. Cassidy looks much better poring in over the State exchanges than he does tramping to Raleigh in his Sunday clothes.

The Charlotte Observer says that Mr.

W. W. Adams, of Washington City, Master of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, has been invented to deliver an address at the approaching Fair of the Carolinas, which begins in Charlotte on the 25th November. An answer to the letter of in-itation has not yet been received by the Secretary of the Association.

The Rocky Mount Examiner says that a few days since an uncommon fowl was seen to fall from a shade tree in the yard of Mrs. N. E. Armstrong of this place. A number of citizens have seen it, but as yet have not been able to astain its species. It is about the size of a raven or buzzard. And then the Expositor asks a conundrum, which we incontinently give up. We don't know what it is.

— Duplex Telegraphy.

According to the Scotsman, a system of "duplex" telegraph working, by means of a condenser, which splits the current of electricity and enables the operator to send messages through the cables in contrary directions at the same moment, has been successfully applied by the Eastern Telegraph Company.

The electricians of that company, it is said, have surmounted all difficulties, and have proved the perfect applicability of the system to submarine telegraphy by practically adapting it to the section of the cables between Lisbon and Gibraltar (330 miles), and Malta and Alexandria (350 miles); and it is added that they fully expect to be able to apply it to the longer sections—between Malta and Gibraltar (1,120 miles), between Suez and Aden (1,450 miles), and between Aden and Bombay (1,820 miles).

This system, although only now about to be applied in connection with the Eastern Telegraph Company, has been for some time known. It is highly ingenious and is described as consisting briefly in having a double line of wires at each instrument, one connecting the stations and the other passing to earth.

These are coiled round a magnet in opposite directions, so that the battery currents are neutralized. In working, the transmitting line being clear, one

Ten millions of loan certificates have been exhausted.

A number of associated banks will issue ten millions more to-day.

The Bank of the Commonwealth will be sold for collaterals which they cannot produce upon the tender of the amount loaned.

Carleton, Secretary of Union Trust Company, has friends who are in treaty with the Bank for the settlement of his default.

Henry Clews claims that his securities are far more than ample in ordinary times, and that he may resume when the money market improves. It is published that their correspondents include twenty-four National and State Banks,
